

Welcome

WASHINGTON DUKE INN
& GOLF CLUB

The Inn is named for Washington Duke (1820-1905), a classic example of the American dream. From modest beginnings, he prospered to become an internationally known industrialist and philanthropist. His legacy lives on, reflected in the excellence and achievement associated with the Duke family name in Durham, North Carolina.

Rooms with a view

Designed in the style of an English country inn, the hotel has an elegance that is reminiscent of the past. Yet in every detail—from the sumptuous guest rooms to the superbly equipped Executive Conference Center—the Inn's comforts and capabilities are extraordinary. As part of Duke University, the Inn enjoys sweeping vistas of the University's renowned golf club and is close to campus activities and local attractions. This is Durham's only four-diamond hotel that also features a four-diamond restaurant.

Throughout the Inn, serene views delight our guests in every season. The acclaimed Fairview Dining Room, serving an irresistible selection of regional neo-American specialties, opens to a sun-splashed terrace for alfresco dining. Pine-shadowed fairways and lush landscaped grounds are the backdrop for a hearty breakfast in the Vista Restaurant, a light meal in the Bull Durham Bar or casual fare in Nineteen after golf. This is Durham's only four-diamond hotel that also features a four-diamond, four star restaurant.

Elegance

IN EVERY DETAIL

Whatever your reason for visiting the Inn—a relaxing interlude, a special event or corporate gathering—you'll find your experience enriched with a harmonious blend of fine hospitality and refreshing leisure activities.

The ambience of a gracious residence

From the lobby graced with Duke family antiques to the welcoming atmosphere of the guest rooms, the Inn is a private and timeless haven. Rooms and suites feature an exquisite handcrafted armoire, lavish linens, mini-bar, nightly turn-down service and executive amenities including wireless Internet access. Large, airy suites, such as the expansive Presidential Suite, offer unique floorplans that are ideal for entertaining.

Energizing choices for recreation

Winding through more than 100 acres of magnificent forest, the Duke University Golf Club has been named by Golfweek magazine as one of the "Top Ten" best golf courses you can play in North Carolina. The Club offers an outstanding practice facility, pro shop and a team of PGA professionals.

Enjoy a workout in the fitness center, swim laps in the enclosed pool or relax in the bubbling spa. Discover seasonal beauty along the three-mile jogging trail, play tennis at the adjacent Duke Faculty Club, cheer our fine collegiate teams or enjoy a lively "Broadway at Duke" performance.

Style

FOR YOUR EVENT

A wedding, a celebration or a corporate meeting... whatever the reason, this is the perfect place to gather with family, friends and colleagues. The Inn's exceptional cuisine, recreation and championship golf enhance the pleasure of any business or social event.

Options for every occasion

Indoors and out, the Inn has a variety of beautiful venues to accommodate your group. Convene an executive session in a handsome board room, enjoy a special menu in a private dining room or experience the camaraderie of a golf outing. For large celebrations and business receptions, the elegant Presidents Ballroom hosts up to 600 guests in style. Under sunny skies or starlit heavens, spacious outdoor terraces are popular for both formal and informal gatherings. The success of your event is assured by our attentive staff who carefully coordinate every detail.

A dedicated meeting environment

The Executive Conference Center was designed specifically for productive business sessions. This meticulously equipped Center satisfies the demanding standards of the International Association of Conference Centers, with comfortable ergonomic furnishings, continuously replenished refreshments, sophisticated presentation technology and wireless Internet access throughout. A Business Center and Conference Meeting Planner are at your service, and Complete Meeting Packages offer convenient, all-inclusive conference pricing. As Durham's only resort-style meeting destination, this is the Triangle region's preferred choice for business events.

The Inn is located at Duke University, convenient to the Medical Center, Research Triangle Park and Raleigh-Durham International Airport. Local attractions include historic sites, science centers, famous gardens and art museums. Please call our concierge or visit our website for detailed driving directions.
